

Downloading Hauptwerk instruments via FTP

Please use the following steps to download Hauptwerk instruments if you are not able to download the files using a browser. Many browsers will not handle downloads for large files such as these which are multiple gigabytes in size. FTP allows a smooth and reliable download for very large file sizes.

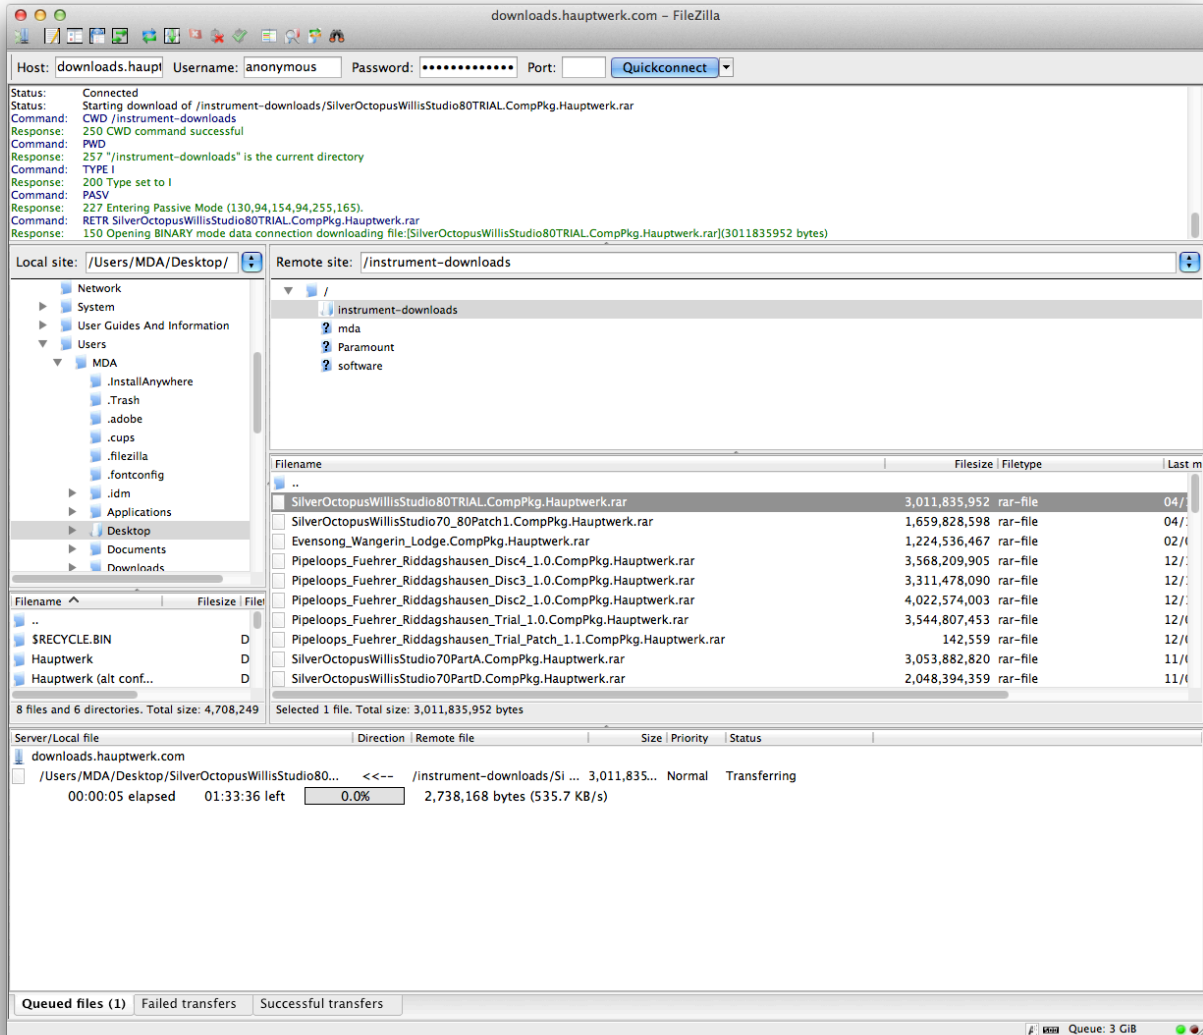

1. Download an FTP client of your choice. This example will use Filezilla which is available for free from <http://filezilla-project.org/download.php> however most any FTP client should work.
2. Once installed launch Filezilla and enter the following text into the "Address or Host" field on the top left of the program: downloads.hauptwerk.com
3. Leave the user name, password and port fields blank and then click the 'Quickconnect' button on the right side of the screen.

4. You will then be logged in anonymously and should see the instrument folders listed. Open the corresponding folder for the instruments you require for downloading. (Note all MDA and Paramount files require a purchase and a Hauptwerk USB key license update to operate. Please only download these files if you have placed an order for those products otherwise they will not work and you will consume unneeded bandwidth). The instrument-downloads folder contains all of the files that are listed on the Hauptwerk website instrument downloads area at <http://www.hauptwerk.com/downloads/instrument-downloads/>.
5. On the left side of the screen verify that the pane labeled "Local Site" is displayed. Select the folder on your computer where you would like to download the files to. Simply click to highlight the appropriate folder (we recommend choosing the Desktop for ease of finding the files once the download is complete).

- Once the local folder has been selected double click on the instrument you wish to use to begin the download. You can watch the progress indicator near the bottom of the screen to monitor the download.

- After the download has completed install the instrument to your Hauptwerk directory using the Hauptwerk component installer (in Hauptwerk use File | Install organ or temperament).

Important!

Please note we cannot provide support for Filezilla or any other FTP program that you may use. Should you have any problems installing or using the FTP software please consult the FTP documentation included with the software or contact the tech support department through the appropriate website.